Land Use Regulation

Land use in the City is guided by the City's Official Community Plan (OCP), Zoning Bylaw and Subdivision and Development Services Bylaw.

Development Approval Procedures and Fees Bylaw 1418 establishes the procedures for amendments to the Official Community Plan and Zoning Bylaw and applications for a Development Permit, Development Variance and Temporary Use Permits.

There may be instances in which you may require a Development Approval before you can proceed with a proposed development or obtain a Building Permit. These may include:

Official Community Plan or Zoning Amendment if the proposed use of your property does not align with the permitted uses or intent of your property you may be required to pursue a land use amendment to the City's Official Community Plan or Zoning Bylaw.

Development Permits are required when you are proposing a multi-family, commercial or industrial development or are developing property in a designated Development Permit Area as identified by the City's Official Community Plan.

Development Variance or Board of Variance may be required if you are unable to meet building setbacks, siting, height, sign or parking requirements or servicing requirements of the City's Zoning Bylaw, Sign Bylaw or Subdivision and Development Services Bylaw. Board of Variance may also be used if the variance is minor in nature or where there is undue hardship.

Temporary Use Permits are used in instances where you may wish to use a property for a short duration for purposes that do not align with the City's Zoning Bylaw. A Temporary Use Permit is valid for a minimum period of thirty (30) days to three (3) years and is subject to renewal.
